Whenever the purchaser pays only a part of the total purchase price for one or more lots purchased, the term “lot” means the whole or any part of the total purchase price for one or more lots as bid and sold at the auction sale. As used herein, “consignor” means the person granting a security interest in the property to us for the account of the purchaser, and any other terms appear or contextually. As used herein, “Bonhams,” “we” and “us” refer to Bonhams & Butterfields Auctioneers Corp.

2. On the fall of the auctioneers hammer, the highest bidder shall have purchased the offered lot in accordance and subject to compliance with all of the conditions set forth herein and (a) assumes full risk and responsibility therefor, (b) if requested will sign a confirmation of purchase, and (c) will pay the purchase price in full or such part as we may request for all lots purchased. No lot may be transferred. Any person placing a bid as agent on behalf of another (whether or not such person has disclosed that fact or the identity of the principal) may be jointly and severally liable with the principal under any contract resulting from the acceptance of a bid.

Unless otherwise agreed, payment in good funds is due and payable within five (5) business days following the auction sale. Whenever the purchaser pays only a part of the total purchase price for one or more lots purchased, we may apply such payments, in our sole discretion, to the lot or lots we choose. Payment will not be deemed made in full until we have collected good funds for all amounts due.

Payment for purchases may be made in or by (a) cash, (b) cashier’s check or money order, (c) personal check with approved credit drawn on a U.S. bank, or (d) wire transfer or other immediate bank transfer, or (e) Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover credit, charge or debit card. We retain all rights of a secured party under the California Commercial Code. If the foregoing conditions or any other applicable conditions herein are not complied with, in addition to other remedies available to us and the consignor by law, including without limitation, the right to hold the purchaser liable for the purchase price, we at our option may either (a) cancel the sale, retaining as liquidated damages all payments made by the purchaser or (b) resell the property, either publicly or privately, and in such event the purchaser shall be liable for the payment of any deficiency plus all costs and expenses of both sales, our commission at our standard rates, all other charges due hereunder, attorneys’ fees, expenses and incidental damages. In addition, where two or more amounts are owed in respect of different transactions by the purchaser to us, to Bonhams 1793 Limited and/or to any of our other affiliates, subsidiaries or parent companies worldwide within the Bonhams Group, we reserve the right to apply any monies paid in respect of a transaction to discharge any amount owed by the purchaser. If all fees, commissions, premiums, bid price and other sums due to us from the purchaser are not paid promptly as provided in these Conditions of Sale, we reserve the right to impose a finance charge equal to 1.5% per month on all amounts due to us beginning on the 31st day following the sale until payment is received, in addition to other remedies available to us by law.

If any dispute arises after the sale, our sales records shall be conclusive in all respects.

5. If we are prevented by fire, theft or any other reason whatsoever from delivering any property to the purchaser or a sale otherwise cannot be completed, our liability shall be limited to the sum actually paid therefor by the purchaser and shall in no event include any compensatory, incidental or consequential damages.

Limited Right of Rescission

If within one (1) year from the date of sale, the original purchaser (a) gives written notice to us alleging that the identification of Authorship (as defined below) of such lot as set forth in the BOLD TYPE heading of the catalog description of such lot (as amended by any saleroom notices or verbal announcements during the sale) is not substantially correct based on a fair reading of the catalog (including the terms of any glossary contained therein), and (b) within 10 days after such notice returns the lot to us in the same condition as at the time of sale, and (c) establishes the allegation in the notice to our satisfaction (including by providing one or more written opinions by recognized experts in the field, as we may reasonably require), then the sale of such lot will be rescinded and, unless we have already paid to the consignor monies owed him in connection with the sale, the original purchase price will be refunded.

If, prior to receiving such notice from the original purchaser alleging such defect, we have paid the consignor monies owed him in connection with the sale, we shall pay the original purchaser the amount of our commissions, any other sale proceeds to which we are entitled and applicable taxes received from the purchaser on the sale and make demand on the consignor to pay the balance of the original purchase price to the original purchaser. Should the consignor fail to pay such amount promptly, we may disclose the identity of the consignor and assign to the original purchaser our rights against the consignor with respect to the lot the sale of which is sought to be rescinded. Upon such disclosure and assignment, any liability of Bonhams as consignor's agent with respect to said lot shall automatically terminate.

The foregoing limited right of rescission is available to the original purchaser only and may not be assigned to or relied upon by any subsequent transferee of the property sold. The purchaser hereby accepts the benefit of the consignor's warranty of title and other representations and warranties made by the consignor for the purchaser's benefit. Nothing in this section shall be construed as an admission by us of any representation of fact, express or implied, obligation or responsibility with respect to any lot. THE PURCHASER'S SOLE AND EXCLUSIVE REMEDY AGAINST BONHAMS FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER IS THE LIMITED RIGHT OF RESCITION DESCRIBED IN THIS SECTION.

SELLING AT AUCTION

Bonhams can help you every step of the way when you are ready to sell art, antiques and collectible items at auction. Our regional offices and representatives throughout the US are available to service all of your needs. Should you have any further questions, please visit our website at www.bonhams.com/us for more information or call our Client Services Department at +1 (800) 223 2854 ext. 3550.

Auction Estimates

The first step in the auction process is to determine the auction value of your property. Bonhams' world-renowned specialists will evaluate your special items at no charge and in complete confidence. You can obtain an auction estimate in many ways:

- Attend one of our Auction Appraisal Events held regularly at our galleries and in other major metropolitan areas. The updated schedule for Bonhams Auction Appraisal Events is available at www.bonhams.com/us/.
- Call our Client Services Department to schedule a private appointment at one of our galleries. If you have a large collection, our specialists can travel, by appointment, to evaluate your property on site.
- Send clear photographs to us of each individual item, including item dimensions and other pertinent information with each picture. Photos should be sent to Bonhams' address in envelopes marked as “photo auction estimate”. Alternatively, you can submit your request using our online form at www.bonhams.com/us. Digital images may be attached to the form. Please limit your images to no more than five (5) per item.

Consigning Your Property

After you receive an estimate, you may consign your property to us for sale in the next appropriate auction. Our staff assists you throughout the process, arranging transportation of your items to our galleries (at the consignor's expense), providing a detailed inventory of your consignment, and reporting the prices realized for each lot. We provide secure storage for your property in our warehouses and all items are insured throughout the auction process. You will receive payment for your property approximately 35 days after completion of sale.

Sales commissions vary with the potential auction value of the property and the particular auction in which the property is offered. Please call us for commission rates.

Professional Appraisal Services

Bonhams specialists conduct insurance and fair market value appraisals for private collectors, corporations, museums, fiduciaries and government entities on a daily basis. Insurance appraisals, used for insurance purposes, reflect the cost of replacing property in today's retail market. Fair market value appraisals are used for estate, tax and family division purposes and reflect prices paid by a willing buyer to a willing seller.

When we conduct a private appraisal, our specialists will prepare a thorough inventory listing of all your appraised property by category. Valuations, complete descriptions and locations of items are included in the documentation.

Appraisal fees vary according to the nature of the collection, the amount of work involved, the travel distance, and whether the property is subsequently consigned for auction.

Our appraisers are available to help you anywhere and at any time. Please call our Client Services Department to schedule an appraisal.

Estate Services

Since 1865, Bonhams has been serving the needs of fiduciaries – lawyers, trust officers, accountants and executors – in the disposition of large and small estates. Our services are specially designed to aid in the efficient appraisal and disposition of fine art, antiques, jewelry, and collectibles. We offer a full range of estate services, ranging from flexible financial terms to tailored accounting for heirs and their agents to world-class marketing and sales support.

Whether you are an experienced bidder or an enthusiastic novice, auctions provide a stimulating atmosphere unlike any other. Bonhams previews and sales are free and open to the public. As you will find in these directions, bidding and buying at auction is easy and exciting. Should you have any further questions, please visit our website at www.bonhams.com or call our Client Services Department at +1 (800) 223 2854 ext. 3550.

Catalogs

Before each auction we publish illustrated catalogs. Our catalogs provide descriptions and estimated values for each "lot." A lot may refer to a single item or to a group of items auctioned together. The catalogs also include the dates and the times for the previews and auctions. We offer our catalogs by subscription or by single copy. For information on subscribing to our catalogs, you may refer to the subscription form in this catalog, call our Client Services Department, or visit our website at www.bonhams.com/us.

Previews

Auction previews are your chance to inspect each lot prior to the auction. We encourage you to look closely and examine each object on which you may want to bid so that you will know as much as possible about it. Except as expressly set forth in the Conditions of Sale, items are sold "as is" and with all faults; illustrations in our catalogs, website and other materials are provided for identification only. At the previews, our staff is always available to answer your questions and guide you through the auction process. Condition reports may be available upon request.

Estimates

Bonhams catalogs include low and high value estimates for each lot. Each estimate of the buyer's premium and tax. The estimates are provided as an approximate guide to current market value based primarily on previous auction results for comparable pieces, and should not be interpreted as a representation or prediction of actual auction results for comparable pieces, and should not be interpreted as a representation or prediction of actual auction results for comparable pieces. They are determined well in advance of the auction and should be subject to revision. Please contact us should you have any questions about value estimates.

Reserves

Unless indicated by the $ symbol next to the lot number, which denotes no reserve, all lots in the catalog are subject to a reserve. The reserve is the minimum auction price that the consignor is willing to accept for a lot. This amount is confidential and does not exceed the low estimate value.

Auction House's Interest in Property Offered at Auction

On occasion, Bonhams may offer a lot in which it has an ownership interest, in whole or in part. Such property, if any, is identified in the catalog with a ▲ symbol next to the lot number.

Similarly, Bonhams may have an economic interest in a lot beyond its commission as a result of making an advance against anticipated proceeds to the consignor which is secured by the consigned property or where it has guaranteed the consignor a minimum auction price for the consigned property. Such property, if any, is identified in the catalog with a ◆ symbol next to the lot number.

Bidding at Auction

At Bonhams, you can bid in many ways: in person, via absentee bid, over the phone, or via Bonhams' live online bidding facility. Absentee bids can be submitted online, on paper, or via fax or email.

Valid Bonhams client accounts are required to participate in bidding activity. You can obtain registration information online, at the reception desk or by calling our Client Services Department.

By bidding at auction, whether in person or by agent, by absentee bid, telephone, online or other means, the buyer or bidder agrees to be bound by the Conditions of Sale.

Lots are auctioned in consecutive numerical order as they appear in the catalog. Bidding normally begins below the low estimate. The auctioneer will accept bids from interested parties present in the saleroom, from telephone bidders, and from absentee bidders who have left written bids in advance of the sale. The auctioneer may also execute bids on behalf of the consignor by placing responsive or consecutive bids for a lot up to the amount of the reserve, but never above it.

We assume no responsibility for failure to execute bids for any reason whatsoever.

In Person

If you are planning to bid at auction for the first time, you will need to register at the reception desk in order to receive a numbered bid card. Place a bid, hold up your card so that the auctioneer can clearly see it. Decide on the maximum auction price that you wish to pay, exclusive of buyer's premium and tax, and continue bidding until your bid prevails or you reach your limit. If you are the successful bidder on a lot, the auctioneer will acknowledge your paddle number and bid amount.

Absentee Bids

As a service to those wishing to place bids, we may at our discretion accept bids without charge in advance of auction online or in writing on bidding forms available from us. "Buy" bids will not be accepted; all bids must state the highest bid price the bidder is willing to pay. Our auction staff will try to bid just as you would, with the goal of obtaining the item at the lowest bid price possible. In the event identical bids are submitted, the earliest bid submitted will take precedence. Absentee bids shall be executed in competition with other absentee bids, any applicable reserve, and bids from other auction participants. A friend or agent may place bids on your behalf, provided that we have received your written authorization prior to the sale. Absentee bid forms are available in our catalogs, online at www.bonhams.com/us, at offsite auction locations, and at our San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York galleries.

By Telephone

Under special circumstances, we can arrange for you to bid by telephone. To arrange for a telephone bid, please contact our Client Services Department a minimum of 24 hours prior to the sale.

Online

We offer live online bidding for most auctions and accept absentee bids online for all our auctions. Please visit www.bonhams.com/us for details.

Dr. James A. Rose Collection of Netsuke & Sagemono

Dr. James A. Rose was an extraordinary man. He enjoyed life as he saw fit, and always followed his bliss. It only took one netsuke, given to him by his mother, to spark a lifelong journey into the world of Japanese art. Netsuke quickly became his passion!

Jim was an extremely gifted and accomplished man whose innate talents, kindness, and generosity filtered into every aspect of his life. He was a family man, the father of six sons, who loved nothing more than being at home in his study with his netsuke, his books and catalogs piled around him, and his phone close at hand. It was there that he spent hours in artistic and intellectual pursuit. It was there that he savored the intrigue of discovery and acquisition!

When one looks back at his pre-netsuke years, it is easy to see how his character and interests fed into his appreciation for netsuke. He was born in New York City in 1931 to immigrant parents. He was interested in everything around him; the curious sort. He brought home every stray snake, frog, snapping turtle, tortoise, baby squirrel, or praying mantis that might cross his path and became a dog-lover early on. At a young age he mastered the piano well enough to play Beethoven sonatas. And, he delighted in building and launching huge model airplanes and beautiful motor boats.

As a young man he became an outdoorsman who enjoyed tromping through the mountains and woods of the Northeast. He hunted deer there as well, and later in life, spent hours sitting under trees observing the nature surrounding him while waiting for the turkeys of the Virginia foothills to present themselves. He was a camp counselor and wilderness guide in Maine and fished its lakes with the locals. As an avid fisherman, he spent time with his family deep-sea fishing off the coast of Florida and in the Florida Keys. He patiently taught family members to fish for trout in the streams of Montana and Pennsylvania. It is not surprising that he was drawn to nature-related netsuke and marveled at the artists’ choice of materials, carving skill, and accuracy in depicting the subjects of nature in such small masterpieces.

Jim’s expertise and interests spanned both art and science. After graduating from Dartmouth, he earned his medical degree from Harvard. He was a gifted diagnostician and was held in high regard, which resulted in an internship and residencies at prestigious teaching hospitals. He settled in Maryland to start his distinguished career at the National Institutes of Health (NIH). As a Commissioned Officer in the Public Health Service, he began his career as a physician in the Cancer Institute and then moved on to the Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases specializing in virology; a new field in medical research at that time. He was a self-taught biochemist, and head of several laboratories over his 30-year career at NIH. Jim was highly regarded in his field and pioneered many medical advancements. He was proud of his work and the fact that he touched so many lives. Jim maintained his board certification in internal medicine well into his 70s. He always considered going into clinical practice, but instead chose to be at home with his family and, of course, his netsuke!

Jim was a traditional collector with an eclectic collection. He was revered by fellow collectors for his knowledge, integrity, and discerning eye. He ‘possessed an uncanny ability to empathize with the artist.’ As a great storyteller and historian, Jim had a fascination with the Japanese culture and language, and was charmed by its legends and folktale. His journey into collecting started out with classic pieces – Kyoto and Nagoya animals, perhaps fostered by his childhood fascination. As time went on, he became more enthralled with older pieces. The originality, heft, and folklore of the tall figures spoke to him. His quiet sense of humor and medical background fueled his search for rare netsuke with unique twists including physical anomalies and the macabre.

Jim’s photographic memory and analytical mind were legendary. Discovering a piece of interest propelled him into an exhaustive mission to identify and study the artist, the provenance, and to find other examples carved by the same hand. When one discussed a piece with him, he was able to provide not only the physical and intellectual nuances of the piece from memory, but also the page numbers found in his books and catalogs that supported his findings.

Jim sought out others who shared his passion. He was a long-time member of the Board of Directors of the International Netsuke Society, and was president of the Washington Chapter for 23 years. He was generous about sharing his expertise, and very supportive of beginning collectors. During this time frame, Jim combined his love of netsuke and photography. It was exhilarating for him to share netsuke in larger-than-life images in a slide show at meetings and conventions.

Jim’s acquisition of knowledge was never-ending, and the quality of his collection grew with it. His love of the masters and the joy they gave him never ceased either. His philosophy about his netsuke was very clear. He considered himself a temporary guardian. He appreciated the opportunity to own his netsuke, and wanted others to be able to appreciate and value them as well. Jim wanted this unique and under-appreciated art form to stay alive for future generations. With this sale, his netsuke will start that journey!
